

Reflection Questions

What realizations and observations about the social world of Emma did you have while transposing it to a social networking environment?

What similarities do you see between the social world of Emma and the social world of high school?

What did you learn about Jane Austen's writing style through imitation? Did you find it difficult to imitate her style? If so, what was challenging?

What writing skills do you feel like you employed in composing your tweets and your Ning posts?

What technical skills do you feel like you employed in composing your tweets and your Ning posts? Do you feel like these activities helped you improve those skills?

What did you enjoy about the Historical Tweets and Highbury Ning activities?

What did you find challenging or frustrating about the activities?