

Partner Response Questions

In addition to sharing general feedback, answer these questions for your partner:

- What was the most interesting thing about your partner's responses, and why?
- How well did the different ideas about the character fit together? Were there any details that seemed out of place? Explain your response.
- What would you most like to know about the future of the character that your partner has explored?