

Six Traits Rubric for Fractured Fairy Tales

Story Evaluated: _____

Evaluators: _____

Rating	5—Strong	3—Okay	1—Not Yet	Final Grade
Ideas	Ideas are clear. Details are interesting. Shows rather than tells. Surprises.	General—needs more details. Predictable—nothing surprising. Tells rather than shows.	Limited information. Message is not clear. Reader is confused.
Organization	Follows pattern. Beginning grabs your attention. Strong transitions. Good ending.	Follows pattern. Beginning okay but not outstanding. Some ideas don't fit. Ending okay.	Beginning weak. No structure. Weak ending. No transitions.
Voice	Full of feeling. Tone fits purpose and audience. Reader wants to hear more.	More telling than showing feeling. Some parts are vague. Some good parts.	Writing not personal. No feeling. No memorable moments.
Fluency	Sentences vary in length. Beginnings vary. Writing has flow. Easy to read aloud.	Some choppy sentences. Some sentences begin the same way. Some flow. Some parts easy to read aloud.	Choppy or rambling sentences. Most sentences begin the same way. No flow. Difficult to read aloud.
Word Choice	Specific words. Interesting words. Lively verbs.	General words. Few interesting words. Few lively verbs.	Vague words. Message is unclear.
Conventions	Spelling correct. Punctuation correct. Capitals correct. Grammar correct.	Spelling, punctuation, capitals, and grammar sometimes correct.	Difficulties with spelling, punctuation, capitals, and grammar.	