Project Checklist & Reflection

Directions: Refer to this checklist as you work on your project. Upon completion of your project, use this page to reflect on how you met or exceeded the guidelines listed below.

☐ My project is informational, creative, or personal (circle one). Explain how your project fits into the category you circled.

☐ My project clearly shows what I have learned about memory and how it works in the brain. Describe how your project demonstrates what you have learned.

☐ My project clearly communicates to a specific audience. Explain what message you wish to communicate, to whom you are speaking, and how you have gone about relaying your message. (Example: I wanted to inform people with sleep disorders about how a lack of sleep can affect the memory and what they can do to get help. I did this by...)

☐ My project is presented neatly. I have sufficiently revised it so that there are no distracting errors or blemishes. Describe what you did to revise your project.
