

Reflection Questions

How did other students react to my use of language certain text abbreviations when I shared my text messages? Did I get my message across, or do I need to rethink my wording so that my message is clearer?

Did I stay true to the audience(s) I was texting in my messages? For example, if one of the characters were text messaging a grandparent, did I use wording or tone that they would easily understand? How might I change this if I did not?
