

Historical Fiction Reflection Questions

- What makes your original text historical fiction?
- Is your text fiction because of inaccuracies (which are proved by your nonfiction research) or is it historical fiction because it is set in a particular time period?
- Did the author do his or her homework regarding the portrayal of the disease, illness, or epidemic? In other words, is it presented accurately?
- Are there any stereotypes or is the information presented without bias?