

Comparison Prompts

1. How are the ideas in the two versions similar? What ideas have been changed or added?
2. How does the emotional tone of the versions compare? Do the writers seem to have the same feelings about the topic? How can you tell?
3. What does the sentence structure of the versions have in common? Where are there differences? Why do you think the authors have chosen different ways of expressing their ideas?
4. What words and phrases do the versions share? Where are there differences? What can you tell about the two versions by looking at their specific words and phrases?