

TIME FOR PARTNERS

Set up imaginary appointments to meet with your classmates at different times throughout the day.

You will need to find another classmate who has the same time slot open as you, and then fill in his or her name beside the designated time. For example, if both John and Derek have one o'clock free, they can make an appointment. John will write Derek's name by one o'clock on his sheet and Derek will write John's name by one o'clock on his sheet. You cannot meet with the same person twice; you will need to choose 12 different people.
